

NORTH DAKOTA BANKERS WILL DO THEIR 'BIT'

STATE GUARD CALLED TO COLORS ON JULY 15

PLEDGES FOR LIBERTY LOAN POURING IN

Stirring Addresses by L. B. Hanna, Judge Amidon, and Many Others

TWO MILLION IS PORTION ASSIGNED TO THIS STATE

German First to Subscribe With Contribution of $14,000 for Cause of Democracy

North Dakota citizens will become patriotic bond holders. This state will contribute its 1,500,000 or 2,000,000 silver bullets on the first call in the great cause of a world democracy. Bankers from all sections of the state met last evening at a dinner in the McKenzie hotel and in one of the most significant and solemn patriotic demonstrations the city has ever seen, pledged their all to the success of the liberty loan.

Its Deep Significance.
The deep significance of the war was brought closer to Bismarck than ever before, as these business men faced the grave financial problems incident to the great struggle and with a patriotism untinged by commercialism, offered to conscript their wealth that the principles for which this nation fought nearly 150 years ago should not perish.

"Bonds of Loyalty."
Sentiment expressed at Grand Forks, later at Minot and last evening in the capital city indicates that North Dakota will contribute the $1,500,000 or 2,000,000 assigned as its portion of these "bonds of loyalty."

Bankers rose from their places at the banquet table last evening and offered 10 per cent of their capital and surplus. If this is duplicated by every banker in the state North Dakota's portion is assured now.

Sticker Keynote.
Governor Hanneman and Judge Amidon struck the keynote in their addresses, when all mercenary motives were eliminated in connection with this loan and the patriotic obligation it imposes upon every citizen, whether of meager or of swollen income, was driven home.

Not only the bankers, but citizens in all walks of life are asked to take a portion of this liberty loan. The government has asked the bankers, it is true, to subscribe for large blocks and retain a goodly portion, but it wants these bonds in the hands of thousands of men, women and children so that many individuals can feel that he or she is doing a "bit" toward this great war in behalf of a world democracy. Bankers have consented to underwrite this issue and see to its distribution without compensation. This is a contribution of no mean proportion to those who understand the cost of floating bond issues. But in addition to this the bankers themselves will retain large sums of these bonds.

Bear Interest.
The bonds bear interest of 3 1/2 per cent backed by all the resources of the richest nation of the world. This interest is payable semi-annually and if in the future any bonds bearing a higher rate are issued, the government will redeem the present issue and issue to the holders the new securities. They are not taxable in the ordinary sense, being subject only to the inheritance tax.

Intense enthusiasm marked the explanation of the various features of the issue by Governor Hanna.

The dinner opened with an earnest invocation by Rev. H. C. Postlethwaite, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who was introduced by J. L. Bell, vice president of the First National bank.

Succeeds Russ.
Mr. Bell succeeds George H. Russ, Jr., as chairman of this district. Mr. Russ was called to the colors and is now in the officers' training camp at Fort Snelling. Behind Mr. Bell, who was toastmaster, was a large American flag, bearing a number of liberty loan posters, artistic in design and bearing a facsimile of the bonds with the inscription, "Liberty loan—become a patriotic bondholder—subscribe at your bank today." On the facsimile of the bond are these words:

"The bond of loyalty backed by all the resources of the richest nation in the world.
"As good as cash and draws interest."
Necessity of Subscribing.
Enthusiasm greeted the opening words of Mr. Bell, who well stated the necessity of supporting the liberty loan so that success might follow our arms. He introduced as the first speaker of the evening Governor L. J. Frazier.

"This gathering this evening," he said, "is only another proof of the"

GIRL CRUSHED BETWEEN TWO FREIGHT CARS

Many Witnessed Frightful Accident in Northern Pacific Yards Last Evening

NEGLIGENCE IS HELD CAUSE FOR ACCIDENT

Caught between the couplings of two freight cars as she was squeezing through a two-foot passage, Miss Ruth McVey, an employee of the Capital City laundry, was almost instantly crushed to death on a siding opposite the Northern Pacific station at 6 o'clock last evening. The dying girl hung suspended between the couplings, which held her waist in a relentless vise, until the switch engine could be signaled to break the coupling. Personal negligence was held responsible for the young lady's death by a jury consisting of J. G. Cowan, E. L. Smith and John Sayres, which sat at an inquest conducted at Webb's undertaking rooms this morning by Coroner A. E. Shipp.

Miss McVey and a fellow-employee, Miss Rose Kuntz, left the laundry at 6 o'clock and started across the tracks by a short-cut leading from the Hughes electric plant. Two strings of cars were standing on the siding, and there was barely space between the couplings to permit the girls to get through by turning sideways. Miss Kuntz had just made the passage in safety, when there was a crash, and Miss McVey screamed, as the cars closed in on her. Miss Kuntz grasped her companion's arm in an effort to extricate her, but the couplings held her fast, and not until the section of the train to which the engine was attached had been moved, was the mangled form released. By this time a doctor had arrived, but a casual

Women Under Leadership of Wife of Secretary of Treasury to Assist in Work

TWO BILLION ISSUE.

New York, May 18.—Announcement was made today by the Federal Reserve bank of New York that it had been requested to receive subscriptions for an additional issue of $2,000,000 treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Chicago, May 18.—Secretary McAdoo left for Milwaukee today to continue his tour in behalf of the Liberty loan, after expressing himself as well pleased with the spirit in which the bankers of the Middle West had received the loan. He added that much work might be necessary to interest the people in the sale of the war securities.

Bankers Must Do It.
"These bonds cannot be sold with optimism," he said. "The bonds cannot sell themselves, and the bankers alone cannot do it. The people of the entire country must be awakened to the importance of the situation. The wider this issue of bonds is distributed among the people, the better it will be for business, and the successful prosecution of the war."

Performing Duty.
"Every man and woman, who buys even a fifty dollar bond will be performing a patriotic duty."

Plans for completing the organization of the woman's liberty loan committee were announced here today. Mrs. William G. McAdoo will act as chairman of the committee.

UNNATURALIZED GERMANS WANT RULE RELAXED

New York, May 18.—The rush of unnaturalized Germans for permits to enable them to continue living within a half mile of armories, forts or other places used by the army or navy, has become so great that Thomas McCarthy, U. S. Marshal, has requested the department of justice for fifty additional clerks to help his present force of thirty-eight investigating applicants.

Many hotels and cafe proprietors have discovered that their resorts after June 1 will be within the forbidden zone by the war proclamation to enemy aliens.

THREE MARKED FOR MURDER BY POISON PLOTTERS

Body of Physician Reveals Plan to Kill Sisters by Doping Food

San Antonio, May 18.—Developments yesterday in the investigation to determine the causes leading to the death of Dr. Francis Herdman, 54 years old, osteopathic physician, whose body was found at his home here Tuesday morning, lent color to the belief that Dr. Herdman and her two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Allen at Brooklyn, who also is an osteopathic physician and Miss Alice Herdman, of San Antonio, but also formerly of Brooklyn, long shared a mutual fear that poison was being administered to the two sisters in San Antonio.

The nature of the poison, or who administered it, if the fear of the sisters was justified, remains a mystery. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Herdman today were in custody of an alienist for observation.

RUSSIA FORMS CABINET, AVERTS COMPLICATIONS

Radical Element Secure Appointment of Six Socialists and Trouble Avoided

GERMANY CONTENTS TRUCE WILL BE FIRST RESULT

British Occupy Bullecourt and Threaten Hindenburg Line at Very Vital Point

EVACUATE BULLECOURT.
Berlin, May 18.—The official statement issued by the "army headquarters" staff says the ruins of the former village of Bullecourt were evacuated by them yesterday.

By Associated Press.
A hitch in the formation of a new government in Russia developing yesterday, apparently has been settled over night. A dispatch filed in Petrograd last night and received this morning announced that the settlement was not yet final, but quickly following this came a dispatch under today's date stating definitely that a cabinet had been formed with the inclusion of six socialists. Thus it appeared that whatever difficulty there had arisen had been adjusted.

Truce Rumor.
German rumor meanwhile is busy with the Russian situation. Newspaper reports from the Hague today gave evidence of this in announcing the currency there of a rumor of German origin that as the result of political changes in Petrograd, a truce was about to be arranged between the Central Powers and Russia. Every indication from Petrograd is directly contrary to any such assumption, one of the cardinal features of the new government program being the continuation of cordial unity with the Entente allies.

Bullecourt Falls.
Bullecourt is at last in British hands and the Drocourt-Queant line appears doomed. The tremendous sacrifices made by the Germans have proved in vain, and the flames of burning towns behind their lines give color to reports that Von Hindenburg is contemplating another strategic retreat. The capture of Bullecourt has brought the British to within two miles of Queant on the northern side of the famous switch line. Their guns have already encircled it at an equal distance to the south and east, and only a narrow gateway to the northwest lies open to the German garrison. Bullecourt, itself, over which rivers of blood have flowed stands on a height overlooking a broad valley, which runs directly to Queant. It presumably will take sometime for the British to establish their heavy guns on this height, but the fate of Queant seems sealed.

Italian Success.
Additional reports from the Italian front, emphasize the importance of the victory won by General Cordonas but also bring word that the Austrians have reacted and apparently the usual period of counter attacks will follow.

Babe's Body Afloat in Minn. Lake

Believed It Was Cast to Waters From Automobile—Authorities Investigate

VICTIM WELL DRESSED; IN WATER SEVERAL DAYS

Albert Lea, Minn., May 18.—The body of a little girl about three or four months old, garbed in fine clothes of lace, was found floating in the lake about Fountain Lake dam here today, by boys wading. Coroner J. P. Vonberg is investigating a theory that she was strangled or thrown alive into the water from a bridge by passing motorists. The spot at which she was found is ten rods from the Jefferson highway. The body apparently had been in the water three or four days and the clothing was too soiled to show laundry marks. An inquest is to be held late today.

PENCHANT FOR JOYRIDING IS BOY'S NEMESIS

Seventeen-Year-Old Must Go Back to Mandan to Complete Term Begun at Twelve

MANY BISMARCK FOLK WERE MADE VICTIMS

A penchant for joy-riding and a mania for keys returns Harold Hodge, 17-year-old Fargo boy, to the Mandan reform school, to serve out a sentence for larceny which he began five years ago, at the age of 12.

Bismarck folk, including Sheriff French, Gordon Harris and Police Commissioner Hertsch have been victims of Hodge's joy-riding propensities. Cars would disappear from one street and be found some hours later on another street, sometimes in a dilapidated condition.

Chris Plays Sleuth.
Big Chris Martineau, chief of police, did some sleuthing, with the aid of Deputy Sheriff Rollin Welch, with the result that Hodge, under one of his numerous aliases, was arrested in a local restaurant yesterday, after putting up a bold front for a few minutes. He finally confessed being responsible for the Bismarck pranks, and stated further that he had stolen a motorcycle in Fargo.

Today Hodge was given a hearing by Magistrate Blackreid. The boy pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious mischief and was sentenced to ten days in the county jail, at the end of which time he will be returned to Mandan to complete the remainder of his reform school term. He was originally sentenced from Fargo; paroled at the end of two and one-half years, and had enjoyed his liberty an equal length of time.

On Hodge's person were found keys fitting every automobile known to civilization. Many of these were purloined from Police Commissioner Hertsch, whose keyring was taken from a car in front of the Bismarck Motor company's offices. Others, Hodge claimed, belonged to the Courier-News at Fargo, by which he formerly was employed.

SOLDIERS FORCED TO SUBSCRIBE TO WAR LOAN

Amsterdam, May 18. In the budget debate in the reichstag on Wednesday, Deputy Vogtherr, socialist, attacked the government for questionable methods in propagating the war loan. He said that soldiers in the field had been forced to subscribe and that similar pressure had been exerted on cooperative societies. Deputy Cohn, socialist, said that all military writers had counted even before the war on the starvation campaign by Great Britain, and that it was therefore hypocritical to act as if Germany were surprised by these tactics.

WON'T STRIKE OUT RETROACTIVE TAX

Washington, May 18. Resuming debate on amendment on the war tax bill, the House today by a vote of 123 to 54 refused to strike out the section designed to levy a retroactive tax of one-third the amount of last year's income taxes.

GOVERNORS ASKED TO RECRUIT TO WAR STRENGTH

North Dakota Is Named as One of the Points for Assembly of Troops

NO INSTRUCTIONS HERE SAYS CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Frazier and Tharalson Had No Knowledge of Orders Issued From Washington

Washington, May 18.—North Dakota and Minnesota national guardsmen, together with all other national guard organizations in the United States, will be called in to federal service between July 15 and August 5. Governors have been authorized to recruit all organizations of war strength. The states of assembly include:

July 15.—North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska. Incorporating Guard.
Arrangements for formally incorporating the guard into the armies of the United States, terminating for the war period their status as state troops, are understood to be based upon the possibility of supplying full war equipment for the troops. It is understood also that the 16 initial camps for the guard will all be in the southeastern, southern and western departments. Dates upon which various state units are to be moved to the big camps from state mobilization points will depend on the completion of the quarters and supply system at the camps.

Sign Bill Today.
President Wilson's approval was the final step necessary to make the war army bill a law. As a preliminary Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark were to sign the bill today, after which it goes to the White House. The president is expected to sign the bill immediately and to issue a proclamation setting the day for the registration of men for the army. The men will then set in motion the machinery for raising an army increment of 500,000 men from 21 to 30 years of age for selective conscription. Final action was taken by congress last night on the war army bill, the second of the major measures of the war.

The senate, by a vote of 65 to 8, adopted the conference report accepted yesterday by the house. Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark will sign the bill tomorrow and send it to President Wilson. It probably will be law before tonight.

As finally approved the bill provides for raising by selective conscription a war army in increments of 500,000 men from 21 to 30 years of age. It also authorizes without directing the president to raise volunteer forces which Colonel Roosevelt desires to take to France, and greatly increases the pay of all enlisted men.

500,000 Men in First Army.
Machinery to register and draft the first 500,000 men already has been set up by the war department. Immediately after the president signs the bill, he will by proclamation, designate the date for registration of the 10,000,000, or more men of the prescribed age. Registration books will be in the hands of state and local authorities who are to co-operate in the work, and Brigadier General Crowder, the provost marshal general, expects to have his complete lists in Washington within five days after registering begins.

Then will come the task of selecting the first half million, exempting the physically unfit, those with dependents and men who are needed on the farms and in industries. The processes of selection probably will be completed long before the men are wanted.

Secretary Baker said today that because of lack of supplies, the new army would not be called to the colors for training before September.

Whether Colonel Roosevelt shall be permitted to raise an expedition, now rests with President Wilson. It is believed that he probably will postpone decision while the draft system is being put into operation.

Stone Attacks Roosevelt.
As during the early stages of the long dispute in congress, today's closing debate centered upon the so-called Roosevelt amendment. Colonel Roosevelt was vigorously attacked by Senator Stone of Missouri, and as ardently defended by his friend, Senator Johnson of California.

The senate's approval of the measure agreed upon by the conferees and accepted by the house came late in the day after attempts to send it back to conference and an earnest appeal by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of military committee for final action.

JUNE RECORDS

PABLO CASALS' enchanted rendering of Wagner's beautiful "Evening Star" from "Tannhäuser" has a sheer, pure loveliness never yet attained by anyone but Casals on the cello. It has a ravishing glory and sweetness of tone—a human voice sings in the vibrant strings!

Other gems are Ketelbey's symphonic tone-picture "In a Monastery Garden," with the calls of nesting birds and the deep-voiced intoning of the "Kyrie Eleison" by a splendid male chorus lending it an unusual interest; then the first (and exclusively Columbia) recording of the world-famed New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the personal direction of Josef Stransky; and Oscar Seagle's inspired rendering of "The Snowy-Breasted Pearl" and the quaint old "The Ash Grove." These are truly

SAYS PRICES TO CAUSE SOCIAL UPHEAVAL SOON

Something Must Be Done at Once to Prevent Corner in Food Necessities

Washington, May 18.—Prediction of a social upheaval unless the rising prices of food were checked were made today by George Anderson, United States attorney at Boston and special assistant to Attorney General Gregory, in co-ordination with food investigations before the house agricultural committee in connection with the administration food control bill Mr. Anderson, with great emphasis, made this statement:

"That a social and political upheaval is threatened cannot be denied or disregarded. Anyone with his ears open will hear me out. There will be a synonym in America inconsistent with law or order unless there is something done to prevent it."

Mr. Anderson said the government should be empowered to break up corners in potatoes, eggs, onions, and other market products by seizing and marketing the products held by hoarders or unfair traders. Mr. Anderson said he and his assistants have found it utterly impossible to tell what food supplies were held in storage in New York, Chicago, Boston, Duluth and other cities, until witnesses were brought before the grand jury and examined.

PROVIDE FOR PROCEEDS OF LIBERTY LOAN

Washington, May 18.—Proceeds of the Liberty loan, the treasury department announced today, will be deposited in banks and trust companies, which have qualified as depositories and which forward subscriptions of at least $100,000. Where possible, other financial institutions forwarding a less amount of subscriptions will be treated similarly later. The government will receive 2 per cent interest.

The government's apparent intention to advance approximately one billion to the allies before July 1, $870,000,000 of which already has been paid, is reflected in a request of Secretary McAdoo to the banks to take as large amount of treasury certificates as soon as possible, and "at least equal to 50 per cent" of the payment they will have to make on subscriptions.

GIRL CRUSHED BETWEEN TWO FREIGHT CARS

examination of the dying girl proved her beyond earthly aid. The young woman died as she was being carried to the Northern Pacific station.

The accident resulted when the switch engine coupled onto the string of cars at the west of the break. The rebound from this slight jar moved the cars just far enough to close the gap, and it came at the very moment when Miss McVey was threading the passage.

Probably a score of people saw the accident or were attracted by the dying girl's screams. At the inquest this morning testimony was given by J. E. Chartier of the switch engine crew, Miss Kuntz, Miss Minnie King, another laundry employee who was making for the crossing when the accident occurred; S. F. Morise, telegraph operator; H. L. Anderson, trainman; W. R. McGilvray, conductor; H. H. Warren, engineer; Frank Cowan and Clarence Larson of the Hughes electric force; Ed. Dalbec, expressman, and William Gates, fireman.

The trainmen testified that two bells were signaling at the time the coupling west of the crossing was made. The switch engine was on the Third street crossing, and the crossing bells on Third were ringing.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO RECRUIT TO WAR

Gronna Votes Against Bill.
The eight senators who cast the negative votes were:
Democrats—Gore of Oklahoma, Hardwick of Georgia; Kirby of Arkansas; Stone of Missouri and Trimnell of Florida.
Republicans—LaFollette of Wisconsin; Gronna of North Dakota and Norris of Nebraska.

The bill, backed by the administration, was introduced in the senate April 19, was passed April 28—in the senate by a vote of 81 to 8 and in the house 397 to 24—and has since been tied up in conference, returned twice by the house, to include the Roosevelt volunteer provision, and further pay increases for enlisted men.

Senator Reed said it might be well to re-open the question of conscription which he believed was unpopular throughout the country.

A final plea by Senator Chamberlain against returning the bill to conference, preceded the vote. He said in another conference many questions would be re-opened.

After the army bill had been perfected in both houses today and sent to President Wilson for his signature, the senate adopted a resolution proposed by Senator Smith of Georgia to put conscription out of force after the end of the war. The Smith resolution had the support of senators who fought unsuccessfully to confine the army "to the duration of the war instead of the existing emergency."

To become effective the resolution must pass the house and be approved by the president.

Nothing Known Here

United States Has Chance To Revolutionize World's Diplomacy Says Russell

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.

The United States, the savior of the world, the restorer of imperiled democracy!

How often we have heard that said since the war began. How many of us have never taken it seriously nor stopped to understand what it really means.

They understand in France.
I have a letter from Paris about that and it gives a rather different impression of the feelings of the French people from any you may have gained from news dispatches.

You have read how the American flag was displayed everywhere in France and everywhere was cheered with boundless enthusiasm; how the French government from the president down gave us the warmest welcome, and what affecting tributes to this country were printed in the French press.

But this letter tells me that all this did not begin to express the profound emotions of the French people, for nothing could adequately express them.

They were touched by the thought of America and France once more side by side fighting for a great cause, touched by the expressions of American sympathy, touched by President Wilson's wonderful address, which has become the French bible of democracy. And still there was something else regarded by French statesmen, thinkers and skilled observers as the most wonderful of all.

IT WAS THIS, THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS USEFUL.

About its aims there was no taint of the sordid or the mean. It had no territories to defend and desired none to grab. It was aloof from all the lusts that have for centuries animated all the governments of Europe. For reasons above anything ever known in European history it had entered upon a war in which it had absolutely nothing to gain.

Also, one other thing. Since the time when France, threatened with destruction by the German hordes, was driven against all her hopes to take up arms to save her life, the United States was the only nation that had entered the war without bargaining or stipulation.

With every other government on both sides it had been necessary to dicker, to make arrangements, to offer inducements or at least to give material reasons.

With the United States not a word was exchanged. It asked for nothing, suggested no terms, hinted at no bargain, offered no conditions.

When the time came it went forth to make war because of a conviction of duty and the feeling that not otherwise could society be preserved or liberty be rescued.

It did this, the French point out, unflinchingly and uncompromisingly, assuming the most tremendous burdens of cost, sacrifice and debt, that it might be true to itself, its faith and the welfare of mankind.

Then they say that a nation having given to the world such an example of high aims and disinterested purposes, stands in a position of majestic power and influence, and will, if it holds on, change all the course of all the diplomacy and all the international relations of the world.

Hitherto all these things have been on the ice-cold philosophy of cut-throats. If the United States keeps its word and wavers not from the faith it has announced, that old basis can never come back, and man in a year leaps forward the distance of centuries.

It is true, what these sympathetic Frenchmen have so quickly perceived, and it is a truth to make us most sober, thoughtful and diligent that we upon whom has fallen this greatest of all opportunities in all human records to serve God and man should never fail in the slightest particular to be loyal to the task that has been entrusted to us.

If for the sake of profit or comfort or ambition, or because of mental sloth, we fall short and chaos comes again in the world, we shall be responsible to the end of time. For the duty was laid upon us and we shirked it.

But, brethren, we shall never make good on that duty nor think of ourselves again as worthy of freedom or of any place in history but a place of shame, if now we allow congress to waste the golden moments in fiddle faddle, idle debate, the schemes of disloyalty or the schemes of personal ambition.

Our opportunity is withering in our hands.

At such a time talk is foolish. There is nothing to talk about. We know the job we have to do. It lies perfectly open before us. While in congress men patter and pose, France is being massacred and Great Britain menaced with disaster. Six weeks have passed in oratorical film flane. It is now high time for action.

All we believe and all we love and all we hope for is at stake. The decision rests with us.

STUDENT OFFICERS MUST LIVE ON GOVERNMENT FARE

St. Snelling, May 18.—Dr. H. L. Williams, athletic director of the University of Minnesota, conferred with the military commandant here relative to a plan for civilian directors of athletics at the camp for enlisted men.

Purchase of a piano and a typewriter, and other luxuries for the barracks are provided by funds raised today. Col. Sage of the Fort ruled that money must not be spent on table luxuries, as the men must live on government fare. The officers took another five mile cross-country march today and stood the test better than on any preceding day.

Feeding Neutrals To Be Restricted

Washington, May 8.—The rationing of Holland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland and Spain was discussed formally today at a conference at the state department between British Foreign Secretary Balfour, Secretary Lansing, Secretary Redfield and British and American trade experts. The necessity of limiting exports strictly to those countries both to prevent their finding their way into enemy country, and to conserve every possible ton of Allied shipping for the most essential work, was considered in all phases.

Cherished Poison Fear

That Dr. Herdman cherished the poison fear five years ago, was stated by Herman A. Neslar, a chemist. Neslar said that five years ago, Dr. Herdman brought him some candy, which she said had been poisoned. He tested the candy and found a trifling amount of poison in it. Neslar stated last night he had found some poison in the stomach of Dr. Herdman, but that in his opinion it was not the cause of her death.

BREAKING WITH THE KAISER.

"I see that Liberia has broken with the kaiser," said Mike to Jim, as they munched their noon lunch.

"Glad of that, but have you broken with him?" asked Jim of Mike.

"Whoa! mean have I broke with the kaiser?" asked Mike, confused like.

"Well, have you bought a Liberty Bond? That's what I mean," said Jim.

"That's it—buy a Liberty Bond. That's how every individual American can make a break with the kaiser right off the bat—and in a way that counts."

Liberty bonds can be bought by everyone that knows how to walk up to a counter and say five words: "I want a Liberty Bond."

"They can be had on the installment plan" and they bear three and one-half per cent interest.

"Make your break with the kaiser by helping to win the war against him."

Bee experts are mobilizing their resources. No, not for service at the front.

NEED FIGHTING MEN.

There is this to be said in favor of Roosevelt and his volunteer division, whatever may be said against them—Roosevelt seems to be one of the few men in this country whose audience is nationwide that realizes that war and fighting are synonymous words.

There may be a hundred and one technical military reasons against the Roosevelt proposition, but it is doubtful whether all together they outweigh the big argument in its favor. Teddy is a fighting man with a punch, who realizes that the sooner the U. S. A. gets busy fighting in this war the sooner the war will be over.

Making preparations to fight a 100 per cent pacifist war against Germany, two or three years from now, would be fine if we had any assurance that by that time all of our allies would not be wiped off the map or at least so weakened as to be ineffective.

What the present critical situation seems to demand more than anything else is action.

If the Washington authorities cannot supply the action in any other way they better call in Roosevelt and anybody else who can supply it.

The first three states to fulfill their enlistment requirements are Oregon, Nevada and Utah. But the East can hold her.

AVERAGE MAN.

"Save up your money and save up your rocks."

An' you'll always have tobacco in your own tobacco box."

So runs an old song of the sea, all out of joint as to construction, but preaching its old lesson in language that can't get by anybody.

It's as true now as ever it was—and maybe more so. The waster seldom "gets anywhere." And especially the waster who first has to earn what he wastes.

In all the world there are very few men of exceptional genius. Most men are just average men.

But look at the number of these average men who have done great things and who have made substantial homes! Why, they're all around us.

These average men weren't wasters. They "saved up their money" and while not all of them use tobacco, they have money in their bank and plenty of food in their homes.

Almost every man who has made a mark in American history was what might be called an average man. Our latest addition to the ranks of big men—Herbert Hoover—faded in his college entrance exams, but made such a hit that he was entered anyway.

Mr. Average Man, you are of the kind that makes the world go and move forward.

You are the fellow who has got to make the best of every opportunity. If you are a waster and a rounder without aim or ambition, there's small hope for the Good Ship Earth.

Thrift, energy, good old average plugging ahead for all in sight, using good sound common sense all the time, with the average dash of nerve and the average bursts of inspiration—that's the recipe of the world's progress.

Mr. Average Man, don't you see what a big, important man you are, after all?

Have the onions in your garden stuck up their periscopes yet?

WHY RUSSIANS DISAGREE.

Russian lack of stability in these trying times is a source of great wonderment to most Americans. The average person in this country is unable to see why a nation situated as Russia is must imperil, or at least seem to imperil, its new liberty with internal dissensions.

But the situation is not so difficult to understand as it seems to many to be.

The disputes, so far as we know of them, are between the duma and the council of workmen and soldiers.

The duma is, for the most part, a body of middle class reformers. They are men who wish solid progress, who wish elimination of the old despotic evils, but who are neither revolutionary in thought or action and who find definite lines where they believe it wise to stop at least for the present.

The council of workmen and soldiers, on the other hand, is composed of men of the most revolutionary type. Imagine a council in America composed of men like William D. Haywood, Carlo Tresca and Alexander Berkman and you have something of the type of council that is opposing the duma.

In view of the violently different types of mind and the vastly differing philosophies of the men in these two powerful opposing groups it is not difficult to understand why consequences arise.

"Zeppelin went to heaven," said Simplicitimus. "Zeppelin brought down," said headlines in America a few days later.

NEED FOR HOMES.

There are probably about ten million girls in America about 14 years of age.

In every large city there are several thousand of them.

How many of these little girls, just at life's most impressionable point, have come to this wonderful age through an environment of motion picture and love novel heroes and heroines?

How many of them have had their childish lives shaped by the movie vampire and the novel hero of gun play and wild rides?

How many girls, who have parents the world calls good and homes the world calls comfortable, see too little of these parents and these homes, drawing their ideals of life from flashing screens and cheaply printed pages, getting grown up minds and emotions into their little curly heads?

These thoughts are brought up by the death of a little 13-year-old Chicago girl and the detention of her 15-year-old chum, Doris Anderson, who, according to her story, seems to have lived a life of communion with scream and novel vampires and desperate villains and heroes—a life of strange maturity.

Little Doris says she didn't shoot her chum—says it all in a theatrical way, with many flimflam shrugs and yet with an eye direct and a voice firm.

What little Doris did or did not do is not what we are concerned with here. The great question is:

What of the millions of girls of her age? Are their minds being raced to an unreal and hasty maturity by the hectic unreality of night after night of life in an artificial realm—a life that too often caters to them and lures them above all others?

Good homes are what little girls of 14 need—and little boys, too.

But good homes watch over little girls and boys all the time. They don't let them go racing into the unknown and the uncertain half the time in their tenderest years.

America can have no greater asset than real good homes—and real good homes are found only when there are real, wise, good parents who know children and love them.

NORTON INTERVENES.

P. D. Norton, representative from the Third congressional district, has intervened with the state railway commission for East Fairview, the North Dakota suburb of Fairview, Mont., which is anxious to have a passenger and freight station, loading platform and other little conveniences of its own. At present all of these utilities are located at Fairview, a quarter-mile distant and across the line in Montana. Commissioners Bleck and Johnson have a meeting scheduled for East Fairview on May 19, when these matters will be given consideration.

RAILS SEEM NEARER.

An end to the difficulties besetting the capital street railway seems some what nearer today, with the receipt of advice from a Chattanooga firm which has rails for sale, to the effect that it will submit to inspection by State Engineer Crabbe. This firm declined to have the rails inspected by a Chicago engineer the board had selected. The Tennesseeans held him to be too technical. Crabbe will leave for Chattanooga as soon as he can master a severe cold, and if the steel lives up to expectations, he will order it shipped immediately.

PLEDGES FOR LIBERTY LOAN POURING IN

loyalty and patriotism of the American people. A few months ago the talk was of a war. But now that war has been declared the people of North Dakota are as loyal as those in the east, nearer as they are to the scene of battle. At the first talk of war I have received many letters from boys and men of all ages volunteering their services."

Tells of Offers. Governor Frazier then told of several instances of loyalty and one especially significant was of a boy who had failed in his medical examination because of some physical defect which an operation would correct. He promptly submitted to the operation, said Governor Frazier, and is now ready to present himself again.

The governor spoke of his experiences in Washington and the seriousness of the food question. He pledged the hearty co-operation of the administration in floating the liberty loan.

Hanna Speaks.

Louis B. Hanna, former governor, was the speaker of the evening. As a member of the directorate of the Ninth district federal reserve bank, he has been assigned the management of the liberty loan in North Dakota. The regional banks are directing the distribution of the loan through member banks and also state banks and trust companies.

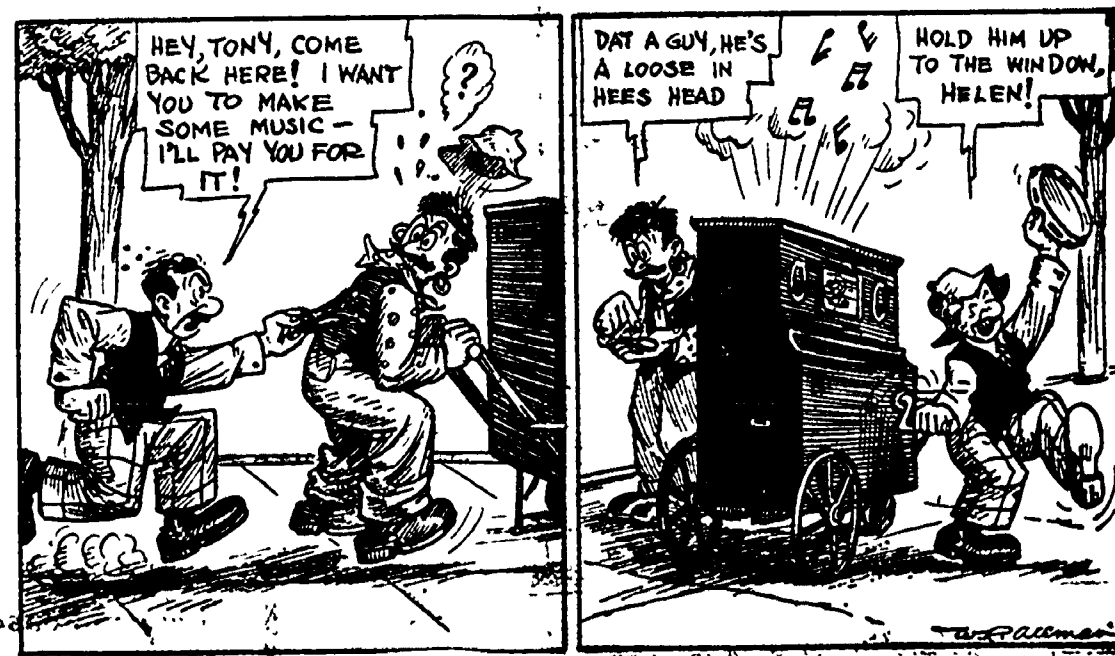

Mr. Hanna explained that in order to simplify matters, the North Dakota bankers had decided to appoint a chairman at each county seat. This gives 33 chairmen who will direct the loan in their localities.

Two Kinds.

"There are two kinds of bonds," said Mr. Hanna. "One is the coupon bond, the other the registered bond. The registered bond is in denominations of $5,000 and over. The coupon bond ranges in denomination from $50 up, with interest payable June 15

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS. By Allman

and December 15. It has been asked why bonds were not issued in smaller denominations. This question was raised the other day in St. Paul. Louis W. Hill, fresh from a conference in Washington, said that the reason for this was that if smaller bonds were issued, the clerical work would be immense and that at present Washington was short about 100,000 clerks. It used to be that the other way when I was in Washington.

Payable to Bearer.

"These coupon bonds are payable to the bearer, can be transferred and interest coupons can be presented for payment at nearest bank or post office."

"Some banks and other corporations are planning to divide up the issues among their employees in smaller amounts than the minimum denomination of $50. These can be held in trust for the employees. In this way each can contribute his mite toward the great liberty loan."

"To some 3 1/2 per cent interest may seem low, but this is the highest rate on bond issues since the Civil war. The government has provided that in the future if any bonds are authorized at a higher rate, the old ones can be turned in for the new ones. England and France in their first war loans issued at a low rate of interest. Later the rate was raised, but those who had come forward at the low rate were allowed to exchange their old bonds for the new ones."

"The question arose if a bank capitalized at $25,000 bought $10,000 worth of the bonds, whether it would be an over-loan. Officials of the reserve banks held not. A ruling is to be secured from the state bank examiners so as to facilitate the participation of these institutions in the loan."

Must Underwrite Them.

"It is necessary for the banks to underwrite these bonds, but it is not necessary to keep them all. They should pass them out to their patrons. One bank recently bought $10,000 and in a short time disposed of $2,000 to patriotic citizens who desired to assist their country in this fight."

"These bonds are the best kind of collateral. If our bonds are not good, gentlemen, then your own property is worthless. Some bankers are over-cautious. I know that because I am a banker, but I have reformed. In case of emergency remember the federal reserve bank is prepared to stand behind you to the limit. It has only loaned out somewhere between two or three million of an available thirty-five million. It can secure money up to one hundred million to finance the northwest."

"Already I have had good so-called large subscriptions. The first was from a German and was for $14,000, and the second was for $10,000 from an Irishman."

"Put them out among the people of the state. Every man who holds a liberty bond becomes a better citizen."

Not a Money Maker.

"We have heard it said that the distribution of the liberty loan is a money making scheme. This is not true. No commissions are paid for the sale of these bonds. We don't want any commission from Uncle Sam. We are patriots in this great movement."

"It has been figured that North Dakota would do its share if it subscribed between $1,150,000 and $2,000,000. This is about 10 per cent of the capital and surplus of our state and national banks."

Here Mr. Hanna explained the payments on the bond subscriptions, which are easy and such as to afford a wide participation in the loan. Continuing, he said:

Wells County Loyal.

"Take Wells county for instance. Its quota is $40,000. I was informed while in Minot that the county has already subscribed $60,000."

"We hear the argument that the money is going out of the state and will not come back. Of course it will come back. This money is to be spent in the United States for supplies for our allies. But if it never did come back, surely we can afford to give money to the government in its hour of need."

"I was misquoted the other day when some newspaper said I declared this war must be financed by 'bonds or taxation.' What I did say was that this war must be financed both by bonds and taxation."

War Tax Measures.

Mr. Hanna then commented briefly upon the war tax bill before the house calling for a war tax of some $2,245,000,000, which with other special revenue bills, will bring the tax up to three billion. By comparison with the national debt of other nations, the tax load was shown to be very small in the United States and exceptionally small when the vast income and resources are taken into consideration.

"Our national debt now is one billion," resumed Mr. Hanna. "We hold three billion in gold and during the war Europe sent back five billion of American securities in payment of her obligations to the United States. These represent the savings of decades. There is a limit. Such a state of affairs could not continue forever."

Eloquent Appeal.

Mr. Hanna closed with an eloquent appeal to the patriotism of the bankers. Applause lasting for several minutes greeted him as he finished.

Chief Justice Bruce, the next speaker, outlined the underlying motives of the struggle and why the United States had entered the great conflict. He told how, as an immigrant, he had come to America and "sponged on her institutions" and finally caught the spirit of comradeship that made the transformation into a loyal citizen complete.

The Individual's Part.

C. L. Young spoke briefly upon how the individual can serve the nation in this crisis. He emphasized the fact that the people of the west are re-lizing the great purpose behind the struggle. He explained the meaning of democracy and how vital it was that the United States continue this war. He deplored peace talk at this time "when there could be no peace."

He said the essentials for individual service were correct knowledge of the struggle, loyalty and co-operation. Mr. Young made an earnest and forceful appeal for loyalty and cautioned against over confidence in the struggle, emphasizing the necessity of a realization that the United States was in for a long and hard struggle, perhaps of from three to five years duration.

James E. Phelan, Bowman, president of the state bankers association, gave a vigorous appeal for support of the loan. He offered his entire wealth, if necessary, to stem the autocratic ambitions of Germany. Pledging 10 per cent of the capital and surplus of his bank, he urged other bankers to fall in line.

"It is time to forget the past," he said. "It is not a matter now of your parentage or your fatherland, but what are you going to do now. That is what counts."

Admiral Wilson.

He declared that he had criticized Wilson in the past as a man with a one-track mind, but after his war message to congress, all was forgotten and that that address has immortalized him in the estimation of the nation.

C. R. Green of Cavalier, vice president of the association, spoke briefly. Mr. Green has given a son, who is in training at Jefferson barracks. He spoke feelingly of hearing from his "boy." Mr. Green has enlisted in the active work of securing subscribers to the loan. He said he did not anticipate any difficulty in raising the amount of the loan, either in this state or the nation, but he cautioned to look ahead for the future and organize for other calls upon the wealth and resources of the nation so that our arms may not fail.

McFadden Speaks.

Secretary McFadden of the association spoke briefly upon the food situation and the need in France today for men to assist her, which is giving of its very life-blood for the cause of democracy.

Judge Amidon of the federal court stirred the patriotism in a short address, which closed the evening's program.

All Are Debtors.

"There is not a man within the sound of my voice," he said, "who has not been receiving from the United States for years and years. The time has come now when everyone can give."

"Here is an opportunity to reveal what our country means. Contributing to an interest-bearing loan is not doing for your country. There should be no difficulty in raising money. Governor Hanna said that if these bonds were worthless I will go even farther and say that if these bonds are no good our own lives are not worth living, all that we hold dear and prize is worthless, too."

"I wish to repeat what a banker said in my chambers recently:

"All I am, all I have, I owe to the United States." If the United States wants it, it can have it. I sometimes question the advisability of leaving fortunes to children. They are often a curse rather than a blessing. But what I want to do is to insure for them an opportunity to live in the United States."

"The issue, gentlemen, is simply whether all that this country stands for is going to perish or is it going to be saved. It is not going to perish."

During the banquet O'Connor's orchestra played patriotic airs and the guests sang America. Excellent service combined to make the banquet one of the most successful ever given in the city, and as the opening gun in the great liberty loan campaign, it will be historic in the city's annals.

F. E. Sheppard, cashier of the First National bank, was in charge of the banquet arrangements, and the visiting bankers were guests of the Bismarck bankers.

Out of Town Bankers.

Out of town bankers who attended the banquet were: A. C. Isaminger, Arena; H. H. Kerr, Wing; Walter Graham, Regan; P. B. Bliss, McKenzie; L. L. Rockwood and Valentine Benz, Moffit; O. A. Brown, Bettenger; J. E. Phelan, Bowman; C. P. Allison, Marmarth; T. E. Haywood, Beach; Alfred White, W. L. Richards, R. H. Johnson and W. F. Burnett, Dickinson; J. Henry Kling, New Salem; P. N. Harmsen and Ora E. Sahr, Hazen; R. A. Myers, Flasher; Fred C. Wick, Center; J. P. Hess, R. S. Johnston, A. H. Peterson, Mandan; H. Hallenberg, Carson; G. A. Lenhart, Hazleton; T. A. Allensworth, Braddock; Frank Simon and F. E. Davis, Kinetyre; A. L. Bayley, Alice; R. E. McCain and L. Doerschlag, Braddock; F. V. Heath and G. V. Holset, Napoleon; John Baumgartner and John P. Henn, Strasburg; J. F. Robinson, Steele; John Fitzer and Simeon Tahr, Willton; August E. Johnson, Washburn; Krist Kjelstrup and C. W. McGraw, Underwood; W. F. Stege, Medina; J. A. Beck, McClusky.

Former Governor L. B. Hanna's committee included W. J. Morisch, secretary; W. C. Macfadden, secretary of the North Dakota Bankers' association, and C. R. Green, vice president.

The committee is holding a meeting in Fargo this afternoon, to be followed this evening with a banquet. Chief Justice Bruce accompanied the committee to Fargo and will be among the speakers there.

Members of Company A Given Fine Feed by Auxiliary Women

Members of Company A, stationed at Camp Frazier, had a fine feed Thursday night. Everything that goes to make up a sumptuous bill of fare was served the boys in army fashion by members of the women's auxiliary to the company.

With a big truck wagon filled with loads of good things, a committee of the auxiliary, composed of Mrs. Flow, Mrs. Peter Reid, Mrs. Donald McPhee, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Hugo Mella, Mrs. N. L. Call, Mrs. E. P. Quain, Mrs. Nelson and Miss Lella Diesem, went to the camp from the Hughes Electric company, where all donations were left. Automobiles loaned by patriotic citizens carried the committee on their mission.

The boys had prepared a big fire in the camp kitchen and all was in readiness for putting the finishing touches to the big feed. After the potatoes were prepared and the meat put on to roast, the salads and desserts were quickly arranged and in a short time supper was announced.

The officers and boys were served in squads in true army fashion. A number of invited guests, including the wives of the officers participated in the festivities. One hundred and twenty-five were served in all.

The women were given a great ovation by Captain Murphy, other officers and the boys. Several new recruits arriving Thursday shared in the feed.

Following the feed the women were invited to join the company in the retreat exercises, when the flag was lowered. After the lowering of the flag the boys gave three cheers for the women of the auxiliary. This demonstration amply repaid the women for all the work contributed. It is the opinion of the auxiliary that many more women of Bismarck would join this organization if they could have witnessed the joy of the boys while partaking of the feed.

Many more members are needed to carry on the work of feeding the company. Joseph Breslow ably assisted the women with the serving of the ice cream. Following is the menu:

BEHOLD THE PERFECT GOLF GIRL!

By BETTY BROWN.

New York, May 18.—The perfect golf girl, as to costume, is immaculately arrayed in a short washable white skirt and a purple and white striped blazer-sweater—thus is the name of a jorsey sports coat hypophenated. Another feature of this "perfect" suit is the "perfect" curve of the broad-brimmed white hat.

The handsome white canvas pumps have tan soles and high heels which are perhaps more desirable for the girl who follows the "gallery" than for the athletic young woman who tramps over the links with a caddy.

PORTFIELD WANTS IT

Fargo, N. D., May 18.—Wm. P. Butterfield, former state senator, is mentioned as a possible candidate for chairman of the Democratic state central committee, which will meet here May 22. Former Postmaster Steinvick of Minot is also considered.

The report is abroad that the mail order houses have been refusing orders and are going out of the business of filling orders as formerly; that on account of the advance in prices they cannot get out a catalog, quote prices and fill them after two or three months have passed; that the advance in price would bankrupt them if they filled orders at prices given.

Well, we do not know whether this is true or not, that they are refusing orders. Neither do we care. Since in business we have never had a list brought us to price that we did not get the order and with the rapid advance in prices we have every advantage over the catalog house; to say nothing of delay in freight these days of embargo; and now that our country is in peril we are not going to stab our brave boys who are at the front, in the back and rob their wives and children while they are away. Neither are we going to take advantage of their friends here at home; and other merchants are just as loyal and honest as we are.

Friends and stockholders pass this word along and get your friends to come and see if these propositions are true. Put us to the test; require that we make good our every proposition; then if we fail you it is time to go to a catalog house, but if you should have a dry year or a tight pull will you then get credit from a catalog house to carry you over? We are patriotic and loyal to our country and city and so are you.

CARLISLE STAR LOSES LIFE ON FRENCH FRONT

The distinction of being the first member of an American Indian unit to fall in action in the trenches of France belongs to Private Enos Kiek, a graduate of the Carlisle school and a member of the football team. Canadian casualty lists carried the name of Private Enos Kiek, infantry, wounded in action. No longer do the casualty lists give the name of the soldier's unit or the battle front where he falls, but confirmatory telegrams to his wife and four little paupers on the Onondaga reserve at Muncie, Ont., left no doubt but that the wounded soldier was none other than the young Onondaga brave whose athletic fame was widely heralded in his old college days at Carlisle.

such a good opinion of the French. If the Dodgers keep on playing the kind of ball they have started with they probably will not finish worse than eighth.

Winning ball games from Babe Ruth is just like winning hurdle races from Bob Simpson. Having lost two ball games and won none, Cy Falkenberg seems to have returned to his 1887 form.

This is scarcely believable. At a recent la crosse game between Swarthmore and Stevens none were killed.

JIM RICE TELLS HOW TO BUILD UP MUSCLES OF UNDER THIGH

By JIM RICE.
Few muscles are more often neglected than those of the under thigh. This is largely because of the average man's habit of slouching along as he walks.
At West Point the getting-up exercises pay particular attention to these relatively small, but important, muscles. The corrective is to stand with the feet but a few inches apart and to touch the toes with the tips of the fingers without bending the knees. It is ten to one you will not be flexible enough to get nearer than six inches of your toes—but get as near as you can and as often as you can.
Gen. Leonard Wood of the United States army declares the nation's need today is physical training for all inhabitants, and endorses the articles by Coach Jim Rice, physical advisor employed by The Daily Tribune to teach readers how to become physically fit.
Another good home exercise is to fasten a weight, anything handy you may have in your room, with a towel or an old necktie to the ankle and raise the foot as high up backward and outward as possible, repeating until tired.
There is still another way open to everybody who wishes to give the proper attention to these most essential muscles. Stand with your back to the wall and two feet away from it, and placing the heel first of one foot and then of the other press hard against the baseboard. Do this 50 times.
Your daily walk, in which you carry your body erect and thrust yourself forward at every step with a good hearty push with the balls of your feet and in which you are not afraid to bend your legs backwards, will also help you to enlarge these muscles of the under thigh.

own soil. We need a slap in the face to arouse our fighting blood."
The magazine man commented briefly on the dilatory tactics of congress and expressed the opinion that if American patriotism were a fever heat congress would not dare pursue the obstructive program which has permitted five weeks of war to pass without a single definite step toward preparedness.
Didn't Expect Fight.
"So far as I could learn during my stay in Germany," said Mr. Nock, "the Fatherland never seriously considered the possibility of fighting America. Our hostility did not receive much attention from official sources, at least so far as surface indications were concerned."
Looks Into League.
Mr. Nock had not heard of the Nonpartisan league, but learning that he was in the storm center of the movement, he remained over today to call on Governor Frazier. He is much impressed with the possibilities which North Dakota's immense flax acreage offers for the manufacture of paper from flax fibre, and upon his return to New York he may write something on this subject.
Prior to taking up magazine work, Mr. Nock was professor of languages with the University of Michigan, and he is widely recognized as a scholar and writer.

FLAX IMPORTANT MILITARY NEED OF THE NATION

United States Bureau of Plant Industry Calls Attention to Shortage

IMPORTATIONS FROM ANY SOURCE WILL BE LITTLE

Canadian Crop Will Not Be Large Argentine Almost Total Failure

Fargo, N. D., May 18.—Among other war measures the United States department is interested in the production of a good crop of flax. The situation is a most serious one. Recent information by letter from the Bureau of Plant Industry sent Director Cooper of the experiment station indicates that:

"The normal consumption of flaxseed in the United States is between 28,000,000 and 30,000,000 bushels annually. Our production is 1916 is estimated at 15,459,000 bushels. Normally, the difference between this production and our consumption would have been made-up by importation from Canada and Argentina, but the Canadian acreage has been curtailed to make more land available for the growing of wheat and other food crops, and by the shortage of labor, while the Argentine crop is almost a total failure, due to drought and the ravages of locusts. Instead of the usual production of 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels of flax seed in Argentina, the crop just harvested is only about 5,000,000 bushels, but little more than enough for reseeding.

Imports to Be Small.
The imports from Canada and Argentina probably will not exceed 16,000,000 bushels, so that there is available for our use about 7,000,000 to 8,000,000 bushels less than would normally be consumed. The linseed crushers report that the demand so far this year has been greater than usual. It is probable that the Canadian crop of 1917 will not be large, the supplies of consequence can be obtained from Argentina, at least until after the next crop matures, in the spring of 1918. Under present conditions it is not practicable nor possible to obtain considerable supplies in India or Russia, the other important flax producing countries, and so the prediction is made therefore, that flax prices during the coming twelve months will be profitable to the farmer, even though there is an increase of 50 per cent or more in our production.

Many Military Uses.
The many uses of linseed oil in military and naval supplies make this increased production in part a war measure. As you know, linseed oil is used in waterproofing canvas for tents, in the manufacture of waterproof coats, in the making of cores in foundries, and in preserving and waterproofing steel and wooden construction. The by-product of linseed oil production, the oil cake, is a valuable feed for livestock, and will be particularly useful if it becomes necessary to mill a higher percentage of the wheat kernel into flour than is now customary.

Director Cooper calls attention to the fact that flax can be grown more successfully on new breaking than any other crop, and also that flax can be sown later than other crops, which means that the flax acreage can be increased without curtailing the production of food crops. As neither the sowing nor the harvesting of flax conflict with these operations in grain production, there is also the further advantage that the new breaking land in flax this year will be ready for growing a crop of grain next year.

Must Learn Self-Denial.
No man ever succeeds who does not learn to do without. The very basis of religion, of good conduct, or good character, lies in the virtue of self-control. It is the highest evidence of self-mastery and the foundation of all social and business success.

Gasoline Field Kitchen.

Among the useful and interesting devices of which the origin is directly traceable to the war, says a contemporary, the automobile field kitchen is one that is made necessary by the swiftness with which armies in the field are transported and by the promptness with which these armies must be supplied with food. In this field kitchen the army cook raises the canopy on the rear end. Behold! A kitchen of the most compact, yet of the most complete kind, is revealed. Four high-pressure burners furnish the heat; cleverly concealed pumps force water from the 50-gallon tank in front of the car to the enameled sink in the kitchen; and a variety of utensils, such as jugs, plates, meat-choppers and fish-slicers are provided for the rapid and clean preparation of food. Like most modern kitchens, too, this one boasts of ventilators, both at the sides and in the roof of the car. Indeed, it would seem as if the English firm which invented this motor-kitchen simply made a practical, miniature edition of a most approved and modern type of hotel kitchen.

Feeding Straw to Cattle.

In effect, a recent bulletin of the United States department of agriculture asks why the American farmer cannot put straw to the same use as it is put by the European farmer. In Europe the farmer knows as well as the American farmer that straw is not liked by stock, but instead of burning it, or otherwise wasting it, the European farmer chops it up, mixes it with feeds, and makes it so palatable that it can be fed to good advantage.

Emptying a Bottle.

Water or any other liquid cannot flow from a bottle in a steady stream because until the bottle is empty there is a continuous struggle between the tendency of the liquid to fall from the bottle and the rushing of the air to get in. When a full bottle without a cork is turned upside down there will be an alternate realization of two operations—the liquid to follow the attraction of gravitation and the air to obey its natural impulse to fill a void.

Providing for Pedestrians.

Cities that are worrying over narrow streets and sidewalks may take a lesson from the recent action of Montevideo, capital of Uruguay, which has passed an ordinance requiring that all buildings be erected at least 32.3 feet from the boundary line, except in the busiest district, where 13.12 foot spare frontage must be allowed for walks and parking, and must be entirely free from steps, balustrades and ornaments.

Already Has 25 Registrars Enlisted for Voluntary, Un-

WAR DEPARTMENT TELLS OF PROCEEDURE ADOPTED

The pulling power of publicity has fully impressed itself upon Sheriff French. Through no other agency than a single news story printed in Tuesday's Tribune, the sheriff is receiving volunteers from all parts of Burleigh county to assist in the registration preliminary to the selective draft for the first United States army of 500,000. To date 25 have reported. As many more are needed, but the sheriff is confident they will come forward.

we to be less practical in national affairs than we are as individuals? Without national stability, where will our personal business be?

"Let us prepare for the nation's future safety and tranquility by adopting the practical system of universal military training suggested by the same and moderate terms of the Chamberlain bill, which was reported favorably to the late session of the United States senate by its committee on military affairs, which had the measure under consideration for months, and had called before it experts from every phase of national life—the most prominent educators, professional men, pacifists, the great leaders of labor, financiers and the highest ranking army and naval authorities. The bill was re-introduced when the present session of congress was organized, and is now known as Senate Bill No. 1.

It provides for a six-months' period of intensive military training for all young men when they reach the age of 19, who are physically and mentally fit, under the direction of United States army and naval officers and in military camps designated by the government. The expense of the training is to be borne by the nation."

FIXED MILITARY POLICY FOR THE FUTURE NEEDED

Experience in Great War Has Emphasized America's Lack of Preparedness

ABBOTT HERE BOOSTING FOR CHAMBERLAIN BILL

"The lesson of our present military and naval unpreparedness is acute enough to prove that we need a fixed policy for the future and that such a policy should be established now, while the lesson is fresh in our minds," according to George M. Abbott, field secretary of the Universal Military Training league of Chicago, who is here for a day or two in the interest of his league. Continuing, Mr. Abbott says: "While rushing important legislation to meet the needs of the present hour, it is wise to also prepare for a safe future."

"The true policy of the United States is not to be content with temporary expedients, but to give consistency and solidity to all its measures."

Permanent Policy.
"As a permanent system for the future military and naval policy of this country, universal compulsory military training, along the lines suggested by the Chamberlain bill, has both consistency and solidity. Its simplicity and adequateness are too apparent to need argument. Similar systems, used by other countries for generations, have worked perfectly. No other plan has been suggested that is better, or as good."

"This problem of preparedness for the future is more than important, it is absolutely essential to our continued existence as a nation. Practical business men prepare for and insure against all kinds of contingencies that may affect the future of their business, and this preparation, in many cases, wards off disaster, but if it does threaten, they are ready to meet it in a practical way."

Great Business Machine.
"Our nation is the most stupendous business machine in existence. Are as they do hostility to her. The church says 'Thou shalt not kill,' but, interpreting the law, the church says that you and I have a right to our life; that if an enemy, out of revenge, or if a madman threatens our existence, we may cut him down, and the law 'Thou shalt not kill,' is not violated. The church teaches that the state has a right to its own life. While the church says there is such a thing as a just war, she knows that some day, some way, God will punish those nations that wage unjust war, for the state is morally bound to obey the law of God.

"Is the European war a just war? The church has no answer. The right to answer belongs to the state. The Catholic church holds the key to a world peace today! It is a most significant that those powers that have so long ignored Rome are now sending envoys to her court. The very idea of the Hague came from the church. It is simple—the price of peace is obedience to the law of Christ."
